Senior Class Officers

Adam Aiello, Secretary; Adam Noska, Treasurer; Sara MacGilllivray, Vice President, Philip McGuire, President

Dear Classmates,

It has been an honor to serve as your president for the past three years. It seems like only yesterday that we took our first steps into Weymouth High School. As our time together comes to an end, we ready ourselves for the next big step in life. While our next journeys may differ somewhat, the goal for all is success. Our teachers and families have provided us with the knowledge and experiences that will prove to be our best preparation for the future. Remember the time that we all spent together, because it is these memories and friendshops that will grow in value with age. Thanks to each and every one of you for your contribution to Weymouth High School and to the Class of 2001. We have ALL made a difference and will continue to do so.

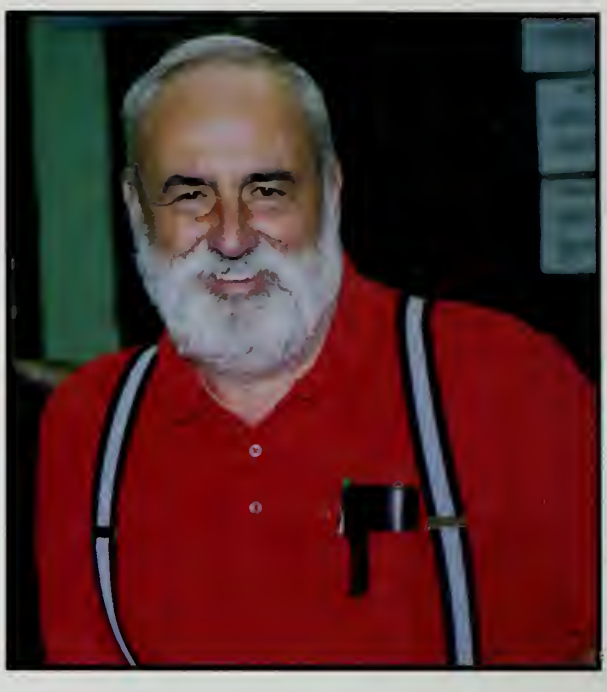
Most Dedicated Advisors



Senior Class Advisors Dot and Bill Doherty will retire at the end of academic year 2000-2001, bringing to a close not only thirty-five years as outstanding teachers of English, but also twenty-nine years as dedicated, creative, and energetic advisors to the senior classes of both Weymouth South High School and Weymouth High School/Vocational Technical High School.

Mr. Doherty began his career in 1966, teaching sophomores at the Weymouth High School Annex, later known as East Junior High School, which was located on the site currently occupied by Adams Intermediate School. In the same year, Mrs. Doherty began her career as a traveling reading teacher with Project Asset, dividing her time among the Washington, Jefferson, and Seach Schools, only the last of which is still a Weymouth primary school. The next year she joined her husband at the Annex, where they remained until the opening of South High School in September of 1970.

At South, Mr. Doherty developed a senior elective English course called Semantics, which Mrs. Doherty joined him in teaching at WHS/VTHS in the fall of 1990. Thousands of students have characterized Semantics as the most influential course of their high school careers. By challenging students to develop new perspectives and promoting an appreciation for language context (not to mention an expectation to be misunderstood!), the Dohertys have significantly impacted the way their students view and experience life. Graduates of both Weymouth High and the former South High continue their love affair with Semantics by encouraging their own children to elect it, and parents and children both treasure the "good person" letters they have received from the Dohertys because of their exemplary participation in the course.

While both Dohertys would name Semantics as their favorite course to teach, this class is not the only one through which they have touched their students. Mrs. Doherty's determination to improve the reading skills of all her students, and Mr. Doherty's attention to real-life skills were the hallmarks of all the courses they taught.

The Dohertys' influence extended beyond their classrooms, however. As senior class advisors, they instituted many traditions which have provided Weymouth's graduating classes with one of the best send-offs of any school in the area. The senior prom at Lombardo's, complete with Mrs. Doherty's signature receiving line; the yearbook cruise of Boston Harbor, which evolved from earlier yearbook dances; and the senior clambake have combined to create very memorable endings to the high school careers of two generations of graduates. These activities have been financed by sales of raffle tickets, candy, and especially Entertainment books, along with the proceeds from the annual flea market, all of which required careful planning and hard work by the Dohertys and the senior class each year.

The rewards of this hard work go far beyond the pleasurable events of the last weeks of school, however. The gifts of nearly thirty years of senior classes are evident wherever one looks on both the Commercial Street and the Pleasant Street Campuses of Weymouth High/Vocational Technical High School. Computers, printers, scanners, the sound system in the gymnasium, and a large-screen television are just a few of the senior class gifts which will continue to enhance the education of Weymouth students because of the diligence and foresight of the Dohertys. One of the last senior class gifts to be presented under the Dohertys' advisorship is especially fitting. The granite Weymouth High School/Vocational Technical High School sign will be as enduring a symbol of the Dohertys' contributions as the memory of the Dohertys will be in the hearts of thousands of Weymouth graduates.

Because of all they have done for the Weymouth Public Schools, the Class of 2001, with tremendous gratitude, dedicates their yearbook to Dot and Bill Doherty. In their retirement, we wish them many books to read, many lobsters to catch, and many years in which to watch their wonderful daughter Elizabeth develop into the kind of teacher and friend each of them has been to so many students.

Senior Class Play

This year's Senior Class Play, The Sound of Music, was performed on November 9th, h, and 12th, a month earlier than previously expected. However, the show filled the ıse for all three performances, and the cast and crew performed exceedingly well. ior cast members were Kerrin Clark as Maria, Joshua Schoenly as Captain Von Trapp, l Allison Carroll as Sister Sophia. Underclassmen were also well represented in the duction with Krista Ventre as Sister Margreta, Katie Meany as Sister Bertha, Joseph gsley as Max, Sean McCabe as Rolf, Emily Hatcher as Elsa, and Nicole Capostagno as el. Many other students took part as nuns and Nazi soldiers. This year's crew was led senior Sarah Mazzilli. Other members were: Alex Elliott, Patrick Scanlon, Adam olds, and Mike ltz. The cast and crew had a great time working on the show, and they nk Mrs. Jan Smith for all that she does for the Drama Society.

Drama

Weymouth High School took part in the Massachusetts High School Drama Festival Competition and made it to the semi-finals with their play, "The Actor's Nightmare." The show is about an actor who dreams that he is performing in four different plays, but he doesn't know any of his lines. The production starred Joshua Schoenly, Kerrin Clark, Emily Hatcher, Jarrod Shanahan, and Allison Carroll, but it would not have been possible without the very capable crew, headed by Sarah Mazzilli as stage manager. Weymouth was the host school for the preliminary competition, which they won, topping six other schools. The members of the cast and crew also won many All-star Awards in acting, lighting, sound, costumes, and sets. Neither the successful production, nor the individual awards would have been possible without the guidance of the director, Mrs. Jan Smith.

Chorus

The Concert Choir and Jazz Choir had a very successful ar. The Concert Choir had ten performances throughout e year, including a trip to Connecticut and New York. any members sang at the 2000 Olympics in Sydney, ıstralia. The Jazz Choir grew from only six members to enty-one They performed many concerts because of eir inceased numbers. Overall, the choir this year orked very hard and their dedication showed in their ıny wonderful performances.

Jill--cheering on our team!

"Bling, Bling!"

"Keep strutting your stuff!"

The girls-showing off their smiles!

The past year has been an exciting one for the Weymouth Wildcat Cheerleaders. Although they had their ups and downs, they pulled together and performed to the best of their ability. During the summer the girls participated in an UCA camp at Emmanuel College, where they learned many cheers, dances, and stunts. They were involved in competitions in Braintree, Franklin, and Framingham., where the girls demonstrated all that they could do. All in all, the girls had an excellent season.

Coach and Patty talk strategy.

In reflecting upon the 2000 season, some very clea images emerge. The most prominent is that the you men who were members of this past season's team played with great pride and emotion throughout the season. Due to the strong, positive leadership of our senior class, this year's squad distinguished itself through their preparation, their consistently positive attitude in the face of adversity, and their completely unselfish demeanor. The legacy of this year's team and, in fact, of the senior class, was that greatness wa achieved in numerous ways. This year's team achieved greatness not only for its high level of play but more significantly for its integrity and commitme to team goals. They were a source of pride for the Weymouth High School community.

"It's a foot race, Andrea!"

Without question, in the 2000 season the Girl Soccer Team played at its highest level in years. The team competed evenly against some of the best teams in the state. Competing in the Divisi I South Section, the girls defeated Plymouth So and Notre Dame. Senior captains Katie Atkinso Andrea DePari and Liz Grammer provided oustanding leadership throughout the season, Katie Hansen was voted MVP and Laura Frado best defensive player on the team. Because of th hard work and sacrifices of the team, the girls were able to build on their legacy and their position as one of the strongest teams in Divisio and in the Bay State League.

Freshman field day.

The Boys' Cross Country Team ran to a overall 5-7 record, with a 5-6 record in the Bay State League. The highlight of the season was a thrilling 28-28 win over Framingham. Juniors Brian Phillips and Matt Kelly hope to lead next year's team back to the winning side of the ledger. Brian Phillips provided the outstanding performance of the season, winning six dual meets. All in all, the small team worked hard for Coach Meehan's last year of coaching.

Christina steps up to the board to get ready for the 100-yard breast stroke.

Katharine and Steph prepare to dive.

The 2000 swim season was Weymouth' best. With the seniors leading the way, the team broke 23 school records on the way t their best showing at the Bay State League Championship, Sectional Championship, and State Championship. For the first time a Weymouth swimmer made it to the State Championship and finished 13th. The 20 swim season was full of spirit, fun, memories and record-breaking times.

"We may not have the best record in the school, but no one can say that we swam without spirit. Good luck to next year's seniors and team."

Golf

"Blast it like a blowfish."

"Tabula rasa."

"Keeping my head down."

"It's in the hole!"

The Golf Team played an extremely difficult season this year and fought hard to a 0-18 record. Seniors Dave Wooten, Chris Donadio, and Rory O'Donnell led the way with some strong outings. Next year's team, which will be led by Ted Flukes, is poised to make a big push in the Bay State League.

Girls' Volleyball

Rachel works hard.

Seniors smile!

"Who? Me?"

Sarah spots the ball.

Determination drove the Girls' Volleyball Team to great heights in the fall 2000 season. Through their hard practice and determination, the team achieved their goal of making it to the State Tournament. In fact, the girls, led by captains Lauren Emery and Rachel Galbraith, ended up making it to the third round of the tourney and were one of the top teams in the Bay State League. With such a tradition behind them, the team will have continued success in seasons to come.

Dance Team

The girls have energy to spare.

"Can you do this?"

"Go, Cats!"

"Group hug."

The Dance Team was led by coach Barbara Copell and co-captains Leah Nig and Becky Robash. In a very successful year, the team had two first-place trophies one in the State Tournament and one in th Regional Tournament. They performed at the football and basketball games, with occasional performances at the girls' basketball games. The team ended their year with an outstanding performance at the Framingham Competition.

The Girls' Basketball Team achieved a 13-9 overall record and a Bay State League record of 9-7, placing them third in the league. The team lost to Hingham in the finals of the Hingham Christmas Tournament and qualified for the MIAA State Tournament by winning five of their last six games. In the State Tournament they beat North Quincy in the first round and lost the second-round game to Braintree. Outstanding players were starting forward Lindsey McDonald, starting center Brandy Howard, forward Meghan Leonard, and guard Julie Affsa. Deserving special recognition was Patriot Ledger All-Scholastic Sarah McDonald, who scored over 1,000 points from 1997-2001, the first girl to accomplish this since Weymouth High started keeping such records in 1974.

Captain Clancy - anticipating the play.

This year's Hockey Team, led by new coach Bob Roach, excelled from the beginning of the season. The Wildcats started off with victories over Quincy and North Quincy. Then on New Year's Eve came a huge win, the first victory in eight years over arch rival Hingham. The team accomplished its goal of making the State Tournament, and as the number seven seed. In the tournament, they achieved a first-round victory over New Bedford and another over the number-two-seeded powerhouse, Silver Lake. The season came to a close with a tough loss to Hingham, who went on to win the state championship. The Wildcats ended the season with an exceptional record of 13-6-4.

Wrestling

"I'm ready!"

Rich is ready to go.

"You're through"

The Weymouth High School Wrestling Tea finished with an overall record of 22-1, with a 11-0 Bay State League record. Led by captains Rich Bloom, Ty Edmonds, Bob Powell, and Sha Spellman, the Wildcats captured the League Sectional and the Division One State Champio ships. With the sectional title, the seniors cap a career at Weymouth that saw them win the f successive sectionals in which they competed. The State Championship was a true team accomplishment, as the Wildcats placed six wrestlers in the top five in the state in their respective weight classes, with junior Tony McDonald winning an individual state title.

Boys' Tennis

Brian attacks.

"Are you boys listening?"

"That's not out!"

"Please stay in."

The highlight of the 2000 season for the Boys' Tennis Team was a first-ever victory over Framingham, a top tennis school, in last year's greatest match. Nick Contrino and Brian Griffin, the number one and number two singles players, respectively, led Weymouth in wins. Contrino and Griffin will be the nucleus of the 2001 team. They will be the first four-year starters in singles for Weymouth in years.

Looking Back

Looking back now starts to bring tears.
So much has happened these past few years.
Now we're left to figure out
What this time was all about.

As sophomores each one of us was considered a fool;
The seniors said, "225 is by the pool."
It just wasn't fair that our class
Was the first to have to take MCAS.

All the pressure junior year -
Finding a college inspired fear.
All of us got very stressed,
But we made it through the test.

Senior year brought our last "First Day."
Our only question: "How long 'til May?"
Sending out that first application,
The whole time thinking about graduation.

Now it's over and we have to adjust.
Next year, a new lifestyle we'll have to trust.
As we leave, we hope to stay in touch,
And always remember those who meant so much.

The Academic Decathlon Team placed second in the Regional Competition in November, 2000, and finished second in Massachusetts at the State Competition on March 10, 2001. In addition to placing second, individual team members won 22 medals for placing in the top four in each of the 10 events.

The senior starters this year were Captain Matthew Darling, Brian Johnston, Elizabeth Grammer, Nicholas Contrino, Phillip Lawler, Natalie Forbes, Kaitlin Hansen, and Benjamin Watanabe. Junior starters were Michael Itz and Christopher Bett. The team is coached by guidance counselor, Mrs. Bonnie Miller.

American Computer Science League

This year Weymouth had two computer teams that competed in the American Computer Science League competitions. For each competition, the students must write a computer program according to the specifications of the ACSL and take a test on related topics. On the Senior Team, Michael Itz was the top scorer, with 39 of 40 possible points. The Intermediate Team ended the year in twelfth place in their division, and they have been invited to the All-Star Contest in Miami, Florida, on May 26th. The advisor for the team is Mrs. Charlotte Cheyne

Family, Career, and Community Leaders of America

FCCLA is a national student organization with state associations and activities for state and national participation. Local chapters focus on areas of interest and concern to their members. Using skills acquired in Family and Consumer Science courses, students develop projects related to family, future careers, or community service. The Weymouth chapter, advised by Mrs. Kathleen Lavery, has been in existence since 1975 and boasts having had state and national officers over the years.

Film Club

In its second year, the innovative WHS Film Club worked in conjunction with the newly-created Film Criticism class to bring film culture to the high school, increase awareness of the media and its impact, and provide an open forum for the discussion and analysis of both classic and cutting -edge film, image, semiotics, and related subjects. Highlights from this year included screenings of Henri George Cluzot's Wages of Fear; the cutting-edge boxing drama, Girlfight; Akira Kurosawa's surreal Dreams; and a field trip to Boston to view and discuss Lars von Trier's controversial comment on capital punishment, Dancer in the Dark. The club is advised by Mr. John Pappas and Mr. Matthew Porro

Harvard Model United Nations

At the four-day Harvard Model United Nations Conference held at Harvard University and the Boston Park Plaza Hotel in December, Weymouth represented Colombia. International topics, such as the world economy, health care, the environment, and treatment of disease, were discussed.

Each student was assigned a topic area, researched Colombia's position, and created position papers which were the outlines for resolutions made during the conference.

The students debated with other students from around the world on these topics and developed skills in speech making, parliamentary procedure, and working with others. (Weymouth students also developed skills in obtaining pizza after curfew!)

Math Team

The Math Team, coached by Mr. Richard Duseau and Mr. Allen Green, participates in two very different math leagues. The Southeastern Massachusetts Math League consists of 22 schools. In this league there are five competitions held throughout the year at various locations. At each location, approximately six schools compete, and SAT-approved calculators are allowed.

The Greater Boston Math League consists of 21 schools from in and around Boston. The number of competitions is similar, but in this league, calculators are not allowed.

Because of the difference in calculator use, preparing for each competition requires different skills. The Math Team has been very successful in both leagues this year, placing third in its division in each league.

Mock Trial Team

This year's Mock Trial Team was a dedicated and highly-talented group of students. The team was led by seniors Jaimee Watts, Elizabeth Hammond, Jillian Ryan, Cara Ciccarelli, Cassandra Dangora, and Joshua Schoenly. Advisors were Mrs. MaryLou Buell and Mr. Michael Murphy.

With another year's experience and a great group of students coming back, the team should make it out of the regionals next year.

National History Day Competition

This year was a banner year for the National History Day Competition. In just its second year in competition, the team saw two students place first in the regional event held at Bridgewater State College. Christopher Wilbur and Nicholas Contrino won first place with their exhibit on the Human Genome Project. The other Weymouth students in the competition did very well for their first year, and they show extraordinary promise for next year.

National Honor Society

Under the leadership of President Elizabeth Grammer, Vice-President Laura Frado, Secretary Natalie Forbes, and Treasurer Kristen Joyce, the National Honor Society conducted four successful service and fundraiser drives. They collected $300 for UNICEF and over 3,000 food items for the Weymouth Food Pantry. The Honor Society also helped with the Daffodils for Cancer campaign and organized the annual blood drive in memory of Mr. John Fleming. During this drive, 86 units of blood were donated. This year's Honor Society advisor was Mr. George Ghiorse.

Paw Prints

Paw Prints is WHS/VTHS's student voice. It reports on school activities, fashion, music, sports, and almost anything else that students submit. The staff of Paw Prints is proud to publish nine editions each year and is pleased to offer a publication opportunity for artwork, photography, student-generated literature, and journalism. The advisor is Ms. Stephanie Young.

Peer Mediation

The Peer Mediators, advised by Ms. Valarie Devlin, were very active this year. The number of mediations increased, the senior mediators trained the new mediators, and the entire group planned a "fun night" for children at Abigail Adams Intermediate School, facilitated the teen dating violence discussion group, and appeared on local cable TV with DARE Officer James Bowen to explain the techniques and promote the ideals of peer mediation. Peer Mediators are peace makers.

Reflections

Reflections is the high school's literary magazine. A varied compilation of poetry, short stories, and essays, this collection demonstrates some of the talent at WHS/ VTHS. The literature is complemented by the high quality of both the artwork and the photography which is submitted by the students. The advisor is Ms. Stephanie Young.

Rotary Interact Club

The Rotary Interact Club, advised by Mr. Matthew Porro, had a very active year in the community, as well as a far-reaching effect overseas. The holidays were a busy time, as club members served lunch to the homeless at Fr. Bill's Soup Kitchen over Thanksgiving weekend and participated in the Walk for Hunger during the Christmas season. The climax of the year was the first fund-raising opportunity of the new millennium. Prizes were drawn for those who helped sponsor the education of several needy children in India. Overall, a rewarding year was had by all. Officers were: President, Jamie Watts; Vice President, Natalie Forbes; Treasurer, Ashley Andrews; and Secretary, Abigail Annis

School-to-Career Internships

School-to-Career Internships offer juniors and seniors at WHS/VTHS the opportunity to explore career options through unpaid work during the school day. Approximately 100 businesses, located within five to six miles of the school, offer students supervised internships in a wide range of fields. Together, the employer and program coordinator, Mr. Thomas Miley, decide on the internship for each student, based on his/her interests and abilities, and they collaborate on grading the students. In addition to the work experience, this program gives students contact with a variety of adults, who may eventually become their academic career planners and mentors.

Senior Committee

The Senior Committee, advised by Mrs. Dorothy Doherty and Mr. William Doherty, meets every Monday to plan and implement the fund-raising activities, such as the sale of Entertainment Books and candy, that support the end-of- the-year activities: the prom, the yearbook cruise, the clambake, and the senior breakfast. This group also decides on prom favors, as well as the class gift. In addition, the committee is responsible for choosing the class song and running the election for the senior superlatives which appear in the yearbook.

Speech and Debate Team

This is the second year of Weymouth High School's Speech and Debate Team. The Speech Team performed beyond expectations with newcomers Carolyn Walsh and Erin Ryan aiding returning students Rebecca Curran and Jennifer McNaught.

This year was the first time for the team's entry into Lincoln-Douglas style debating. Tucker McClure, Lorianne Parker, and Linda McCarthy did an outstanding job in their first year on the team. Expectations are extremely high for next year. Advisors were Mrs. MaryLou Buell and Mr. Michael Murphy.

Students Against Destructive Decisions

The members of SADD were very active this year. They participated in Red Ribbon Week to focus attention on the dangers of driving under the influence of drugs and alcohol. They also took part in the Non-User Conference and the Weymouth Peace March. To encourage younger students to avoid destructive decisions, they engaged in a letter-writing campaign with the DARE students at Abigail Adams Intermediate School and delivered an anti- drug and alcohol message to the students at the Ralph Talbot Primary School. At the end of the year, they also worked to raise awareness of the risks involved in making destructive decisions at prom time and during graduation celebrations. The group is advised by Mrs. Periann Riley.

Student Senate

The Student Senate, with Mrs. Melinda Mahar as advisor, began their year with a "warm-up" activity, planting bulbs to brighten up the campus in the spring. Next, in memory of Mr. John Fleming, they sold purple ribbons to benefit the American Cancer Society and the Special Olympics. On Halloween they sponsored the costume contest, and in November they planned Spirit Week, leading up to the pep rally for the Thanksgiving game. At Christmas they collected money for needy children, and in May they sponsored the only casual dance at WHS/VTHS, the Spring Fling - a great success! The Student Senate tries to make the school a better place. Join them next year!

Tomorrow's Teachers

A newly-organized chapter of Tomorrow's Teachers has been established at WHS/VTHS. The members participated in "Read Across America" by reading The Cat in the Hat to the children in the child care center at the high school. Eight members of the group attended the Tomorrow's Teachers Conference at Bridgewater State College. Mrs. Judith Corbett, the club's advisor, invited her former student, Ms. Jen Curtis-Whipple , now a Weymouth primary school teacher, to present at this state conference.

Words Not Weapons

The Words Not Weapons Team trained all new members at an off-site leadership conference in December. The new team worked with the school community, as well as with the town of Weymouth.

Team members participated in the Weymouth Peace Walk and Family/Youth Service Project, trained members at the intermediate schools, acted as facilitators following the "Yellow Dress" presentation, and helped with the health grant/violence prevention at the primary schools. After attending the Team Harmony Conference at the Fleet Center, the students were inspired to design a web page for their Words Not Weapons chapter. The advisors are Mrs. Judith Corbett and Mr. Brad Lawson

The yearbook is a verbal and pictoral record of the school year. It contains not only individual color portraits of the seniors but also black and white photographs of the underclassmen.

In addition, the book covers all clubs and activities with formal group pictures and write-ups which recap the highlights of the year's activities. The spread for each sports team includes the season wrap-up, the formal team picture, and action shots.

The senior index lists each senior's activities and gives each member of the graduating class an opportunity to express his or her personality through a favorite quotation.

A special section, the baby pictures and messages from parents, helps to fund the book, which is over 200 pages this year. Senior fund raising and the sale of baby picture spots and other advertisements make it possible for each senior to receive the yearbook at no charge.

This year's very small but dedicated staff included Kristin Deree, Editor-in-Chief; Kaitlin Hansen, Section Editor; and Sejal Patel, Technical Editor. Advisors were Ms. Jacqueline Deane and Mrs. Anne Bliven.

The staff's hard work is always rewarded when seniors receive their yearbooks and bring them on the Boston Harbor cruise to be signed by the friends who have meant so much to them in high school.

School Days

I walked out the door, lunchbox in hand,
And waited for the big yellow bus to land.
My mom kissed me good-bye, and I
Promised her that I would not cry
As I went off to my first day of kindergarten.

I look back now and feel as if that was yesterday.
Now, with my books in hand, I walk down the hall
And think, "We have no time left here at all."
I reminisce about the days when I used to say,
"I just can't wait to graduate!"
Now I say, "Wait!"
Now that the time is almost here,
I realize all the fear --
The fear of entering that big world of opportunity, as they say.
Everyone is nervous now that we've reached that BIG day.

So, as everyone thinks back to the very first day of kindergarten,
They also start to think ahead to the last day of high school.
I say to myself, "I'm no fool.
I'm going to be all right out there
Because it's me and I have no fear."
Just think: this is our last year!

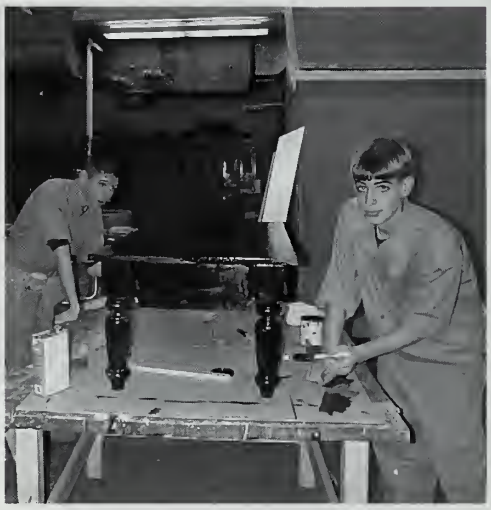
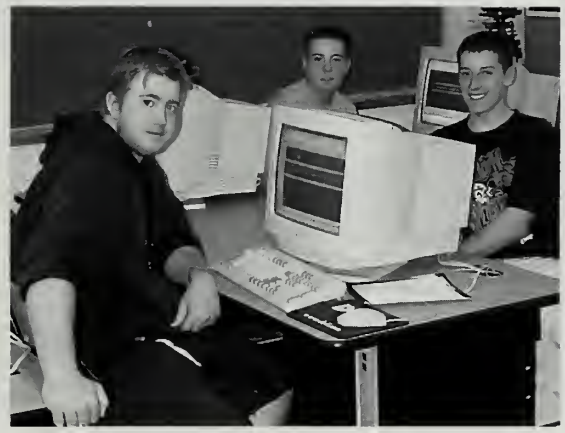
Vocational Education



Architectural Design/Pre-Engineering 129
Automotive Service Technology 130
Carpentry 131
Child Care 132
Cosmetology 133
Electronics 134
Graphic Arts 135
Sheet Metal 136

Architectural Design and Drafting/Pre-Engineering



The Architectural Drafting Program prepares students to enter the world of residential and commercial design. Students learn the design process from schematic drawings for client presentations through final construction documents using AutoCad, a computer software program used by 85% of the architectural community.

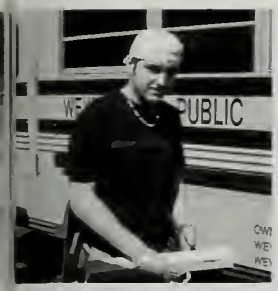
Pre-engineering students are introduced to the fundamentals of architectural/engineering design. Students learn how to read blueprints and are exposed to AutoCad, engineering terminology, and the different disciplines of engineering.

Architectural and pre-engineering students participate in community service projects both to broaden skills and to serve the town.

Automotive Service Technology

Automotive Service Technology students train in the latest procedures on the equipment currently used in the industry. As a result, these students leave school with the skills and knowledge needed for the diagnosis of problems in both the electrical and mechanical systems, of automobiles, as well as the ability to make the needed repairs.

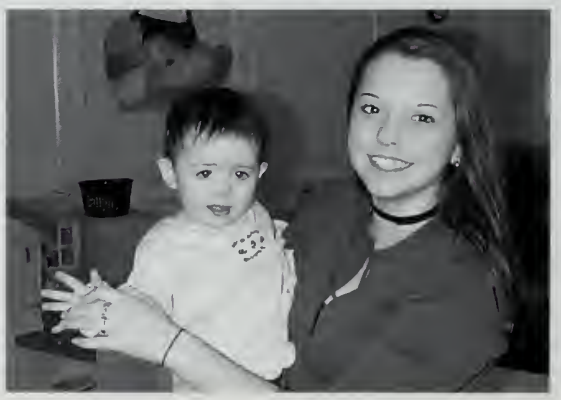
Carpentry

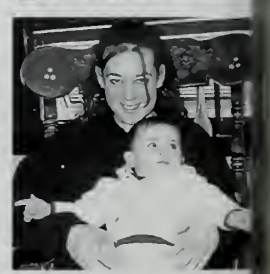


Carpentry students learn the basics of the building trade, including floor framing, foundations, and wall construction, along with other aspects of on-site construction. In addition, the students are introduced to the tools and machinery used in quality wood shops. Upon the successful completion of Construction Technology I - III, students will have acquired the skills and knowledge required to attend technical schools or to enter the work force as members of its largest group of skilled tradesmen.

Child Care

The Child Care Program gives students hands-on experience with children in order to prepare them for related professions or for their future roles as parents. The students in Child Care learn to teach activities, guide behavior, and care for the needs of infants, toddlers, and preschoolers. Upon the successful completion of the Child Care program, students not only receive a vocational certificate, but also fulfill the requirements for a certificate from the Massachussetts Office for Children.





Cosmetology

The Cosmetology Program is designed to prepare students to obtain a Massachusetts state hairdressing license. Both the two-year and the three-year programs cover skin care, manicuring, hair coloring, and permanent waving.

In order to graduate, seniors must complete a Competency-Based Vocational Education professional portfolio. In addition, students are required to engage in community service, such as working with cancer patients and nursing home residents.

Electronics

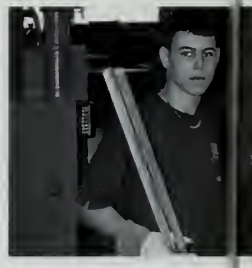
Students in Electronics learn not only electronic current theory, but also the skills needed to service many types of computers. In addition, students analyze and install the components necessary to the operation of computers. Students also install and configure network interfacing cards, as well as learn software and cable installation using networking techniques.

Graphic Arts

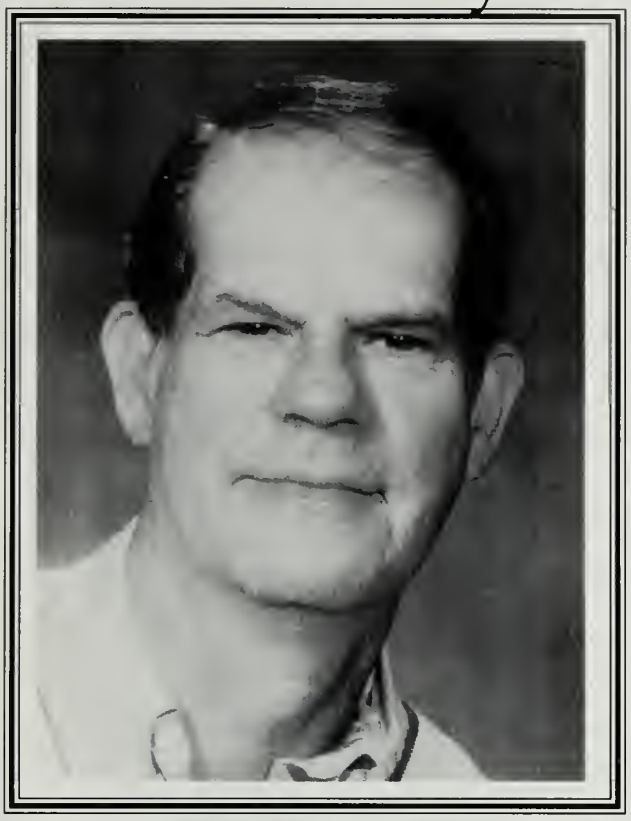
The Graphic Arts students learn layout and design using the MacIntosh computer. These skills are then applied as the students produce all of the printed material required in the daily operation of the Weymouth Public Schools. Students also print the tee shirts and sweat shirts sold in the school store. All these skill help to prepare the students to enter one of the most important areas of the communications field today.

Sheet Metal

Sheet Metal students work on the machinery and equipment actually used in the trade today. As a result, students are prepared for future employment in all areas of the industry. In the welding component of the program, students learn oxyacetylene burning, heli-arc, and MIG welding operations, as well as the installation and maintenance of air conditioning systems.



In Memory



John Fleming

How Do You Measure a Person's Life?

There are those who use wealth as a measure -- money, properties, posssessions and power would be the barometers by which a person's life would be measured. Likewise, there are those who would measure a life by visible accomplishments -- outstanding feats, buildings designed, discoveries made. In addition, there are those who would measure a person's life by longevity-- simply outlasting all the others.

John Fleming's life would not fit any of these categories and cannot, nor should not, be measured by anything other than the number of lives that he touched and, more importantly, influenced during his all-too-short sixty-one years. First and foremost, John was a devoted family man. John met wife Arlene in college, and during their forty-plus years together, they remained in love, raised two children with love, and were the best of friends.

John also had an extended family -- the students of Weymouth whom he taught, nurtured, befriended, advised, admired, and loved for over thirty years as a teacher and coach. John's life is measured by their successes, their achievements, their honors. He served as a catalyst, constantly asking his students to expand their talents. He served as a role model in the areas of citizenship and integrity, demanding the same of them while they were students, and thus laying the groundwork for those qualities to carry over into their adulthood.

This is John Fleming's legacy, this is how he measured success, and that is why the students and community of Weymouth will miss his presence, but long remember his life -- a very successful life, measured by how much a person cares about others.

Tracey Lynne, our beautiful girl,
Eighteen years go by in a whirl.
From infant to young woman,
You've done it with grace,
With love in your heart
And a smile on your face.
You will always be our shining star,
By being the one you already are.

We love you,

Mom, Dad, and Dan

Tracey Moloney

Congratulations, Chad! We are very proud of you and your accomplishments. Twelve years have gone by so fast!

Good luck in college. We'll miss you.

Love you,

Congratulations, Michaella!

You've done a great job, and we are very proud of you! Where has the time gone? It seems like it was just 6,450 days ago when we were saying, "Just think - in 6,449 days she'll be graduating from high school, and now you are.... Have a wonderful summer and good luck at school. "Ya dun dood!"

Love,

Mom, Dad, Christian, Jeremy, Morgan, Angelica, and Cooper

Michaella McGue

Dear Brianne,

I've been the lucky one these past eighteen years - truly blessed to have a daughter like you. Now it's time to share that big, beautiful smile with others. Congratulations - I'm so proud of you, your accomplishments, beauty, strength, and wonderful sense of humor.

Love,

Mom

Brianne Decot

Katie,

I'm so proud of everything you've chosen to do with your life. You've grown into a beautiful, kind, loving, caring, thoughtful young woman who dances her way through life as her beautiful smile lights up the room. Always believe in yourself. Follow your heart and dreams. Thank you for being such a wonderful daughter and friend. You'll always be my dancing girl.

Love you forever,

Mom

Kathryn Whyte

You have fulfilled every hope and dream a mother could have for her daughter. I know in the future you will continue to be a tremendous source of pride to me. I'm so proud of you, Jess.

Love,

Mom

Jessica Auriemma

Dear Tommy,

When you were born, we obviously hoped for the best, but since that moment, you've been our dream come true...beyond belief. You've been blessed with many gifts, but what's even more special about you is your generosity of spirit and true kindness toward others. To have shared almost eighteen years with someone like you is an experience very few will ever know. Thanks for the memories!

Love forever,

Mum and Dad

Thomas McMahon

Looking at you now, I see a pretty young woman graduating from high school, on the verge of adulthood. Reflecting back for a moment, to the time I registered you in kindergarten (the time I forgot your name), I am reminded just how elusive life really is. Sarah, you have always been, and continue to be, a great source of joy and pleasure to me.

Love you,

Dad

Erika Picciotto

Dear Erika,

There once was a baby named
Kate,
And even when born she was late.
She studied and practiced, and did all we asked 'er,
But boy does she procrastinate!

Be proud of who you are. We certainly are!

Love you,

Dad and Mom

Alissa Goldberg

Alissa,
